DULL SOCIAL SEASON.

How Original Society at the Capital is in Entertaining.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 5.—[Special.]—Women who have had much experience in Washington society are looking forward to a rather dull social season. At this time very little is doing in the world of society, but New York society will soon put in a short but sharp season of receptions and calls. The cabinet is always the social center in Washington. If the members of the cabinet are rich or well to do, have large houses and big bank accounts with which to entertain, society is sure to be a success. But it happens at this time that we have a poor man's cabinet. We have no William C. Whitney, with his million, to give society and his good luck to make golden opportunities for the society of the capital. We have no John Wanamaker, no Levi P. Morton.

It is rather odd that the richest member of the present cabinet is a young man who, some five or six years ago, was a mere clerk in Mr. Cleveland's presidential office. Daniel Lamont now has more money than any other four members of the cabinet put together. His fortune is estimated at not more than $50,000. Carlisle has very little outside of his salary; Herbert could scrape up probably $20,000 or $30,000; Morton is fairly well to do, but far from rich, worth a modest $500,000. Morton owns a farm and railroad stocks, but has a large income; and Bissell is said by his friends to be rated at something like $200,000. Dan Lamont, on the other hand, is classed among the millionaires, though it is doubted if he has actually reached that dignity. He is making money rapidly, however, through his investments with the Whitney Columbus street car syndicate in New York, and will soon be much more than a millionaire.

The Vice President's Simplicity.

Vice President Stevenson is also a poor man. His income, aside from his salary does not exceed $4,000 or $4,000 a year. He has a large family, and it is about as much as he can do to make both ends meet without spending large sums in social entertainment. He and Mrs. Stevenson will live at a hotel and are likely to remain there because it is cheaper than keeping house. Mrs. Stevenson takes the sensible view that inasmuch as they are poor it would be foolish for them to try to make a splurge.

She believes in modest, simple entertainments, known here as "small and early." The ladies of the cabinet agree with her, and the entertainments of the coming season will be the most modest and inexpensive known in Washington for many years. There is a tacit agreement that decorations shall be simple and unassuming, a few flowers and plants here and there in the parlors, with no attempt at profuseness in floral display. It is also said that the luncheons shall be as simple as they can be made, and that caterers shall not be employed to furnish them. Instead of champagne punch, terrapin and other high-priced luxuries, there will be seen simple chicken and potted meat sandwiches and occasionally a bowl of exceedingly mild and harmless claret punch.

The ladies of the cabinet have decided that they throw their doors open and make their callers feel at home, on good terms with their hostess and each other, with bright conversation and exchange of compliments, that is far as they can go. There will be no elaborate receptions with bands of music, hundreds of dollars' worth of flowers, liveried servants, champagne galore and hired professional entertainers.

The Wise Will Not Flow This Winter.

Washington society has already begun to look about to discover if possible the house at which business is to be the rule. There is an element in Washington society that is attracted irresistibly and persistently to the parlors in which champagne punch and terrapin are served. These people had hoped that the magnificent home of Senator and Mrs. Brice, which is the famous Webster Corcoran mansion, remodeled at an expense of $90,000, would again be the scene of this sort of revelry, but it is quietly hinted that Mrs. Brice and her daughters will spend the winter in Europe, and that the famous old house will not be opened to society.

Last winter Senator Brice spent a small fortune in receptions and dinners. He bought roses by the hundred at 75 cents per rose, champagne by the carload and terrapin by the barrel. He employed 12 or 15 servants and gave fresh orders to caterers. During the last summer, however, Senator Brice, in common with many other capitalists and financiers, met with severe losses on account of the panic, and while he is still "on his feet" financially and well able to take care of himself he has concluded that his circumstances do not justify him in repeating his lavish social exploits.

The Cabinet Houses.

Mrs. Carlisle is likely to be the leader of the cabinet circle, both on account of her experience and her native force of character. She has exercised much influence in setting the pace for the cabinet ladies, and it was largely her courage that induced the other ladies of that circle to reach the sensible decision to pursue a modest and inexpensive policy. Mrs. Carlisle is known as one of the best cooks in Washington, and a specialty at her entertainments will be the serving of inexpensive and delightful dishes of her own preparation, many of them possessing strong southern characteristics.

Mrs. Lamont has had much experience in Washington society, and is one of the most popular women ever seen here. She was the intimate friend of the late Mrs. Whitney, who left behind her a record of social triumphs unequaled in this capital. She is also an intimate friend of Mrs. Cleveland and will be prominent in the White House social events.

Mrs. Bissell is likely to be one of the most popular of all the cabinet ladies. Larger, person, hearty of manner, with a keen sense of humor and unfailing good nature, she is well equipped for a social campaign. In addition to these qualities she is a fine musician and a passionate lover of music. She has a delightful voice, which is well trained, and her home is likely to be one of the musical centers during the coming four years. The handsome home of Secretary and Mrs. Smith will be the rallying point for the southern contingent. Mrs. Smith being a southern woman of great accomplishments and good family. She will gather about her a number of charming girls from her section.

Secretary Herbert, who is a widower, surprised his friends a few weeks ago by renting one of the fine old mansions with which Washington abounds, and he is living it fitted up in comfortable but elegant style. There are rumors that the secretary will have an interpreter for his new home, charming young bride, and that the interesting ceremony will be performed before New Year's day.

A Brutal Murder.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Nov. 6.—Ex-Alderman Edward Byrnes, who was brutally assaulted by James Murphy, a huckster, died this afternoon. Murphy, who was bailed out after being arrested on a charge of assault, escaped to Canada and has been arrested in Toronto on a charge of murder. Byrnes was 60 years old and leaves a widow and six children.

Death of a Famous Racer.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Nov. 6.—Lexington, the king of the turf, is dead.

TO-DAY'S ELECTION.

What States Will Vote To-Day and for What Candidates.

CONTESTS ARE CHIEFLY LOCAL.

Much Interest in Ohio, Iowa and New York—A Hot Fight in Kansas—National Politics to the Front in Massachusetts.

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—State elections will be held, to-morrow in twelve States as follows:

Iowa will elect a governor, lieutenant governor, judge of the Supreme Court, railroad commissioner, superintendent of public instruction and a legislature which will elect a United States senator. There are three tickets in the field, Democratic, Republican and Prohibition.

Kentucky will elect a legislature which will choose a United States senator.

Maryland will elect a legislature and five judges.

Massachusetts will elect a governor, lieutenant governor, secretary of state, treasurer, auditor, attorney general, executive councilors and legislature. There are four tickets in the field Democratic, Republican, Prohibition and People's.

Michigan will elect a congressman in the First Congressional district, to fill a vacancy.

Nebraska will elect a judge of Supreme Court and three regents of the State university.

New York will elect a secretary of state, comptroller, treasurer, attorney general, state engineer, judge of the Court of Appeals and an entire legislature and delegates to the constitutional convention.

New Jersey will elect eight members of the Senate from Camden, Essex, Gloucester, Monmouth, Salem, Somerset, Union and Warren counties and a full assembly.

Ohio will elect a governor, lieutenant governor, treasurer, supreme court judge, attorney general, dairy commissioner and member of the board of public works and legislature. There are three tickets in the field—Democratic, Republican and Prohibition.

Pennsylvania will elect a State treasurer and a judge of the supreme court.

South Dakota will elect three supreme court and eight circuit court judges.

Virginia will elect a governor, lieutenant governor, attorney general and a legislature which will choose a United States Senator. There are three tickets in the field, Democratic, Populist and Prohibition.

STRUGGLE IN NEW YORK.

ALBANY, N. Y., Nov. 6.—The Republican leaders in this county when interviewed to-night as to the probable result of the election to-morrow said that in their opinion the Democratic State ticket, with the exception of Judge Maynard, would probably be elected, but that the vote would be close. They concede the Senate to the Democrats, say that Mr. Bartlett will be elected, and think that the assembly will be close.

The Democratic leaders are confident that their State ticket will be elected by at least 20,000 plurality, with the exception of Judge Maynard, who they say will receive at least 11,000 plurality. They claim the Senate by 17 votes sure, and admit that the Assembly is close with chances greatly in their favor.

IN MASSACHUSETTS.

BOSTON, Nov. 6.—Massachusetts to-morrow elects Governor, Lieutenant Governor, Councilors, Secretary, Treasurer, Auditor, Senators, representatives, registers of the probate and insolvency and county commissioners.

The people are also called upon to vote on the amendment to the constitution relate to the payment of mileage to the members of the general court.

There are five State tickets in the field: Republican, Democratic, Prohibition, Populist and Socialist Labor.

The State campaign has been waged with great vigor for the past three weeks and has mainly centered on the question of the responsibility for the hard times and for "repeal." The local issues raised in past campaigns by Governor Russell have held a secondary place in the discussion.

IN PENNSYLVANIA.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Nov. 6.—The vote in Pennsylvania is for the election of a State treasurer and a justice of the supreme court. The State treasurer is to hold office for two years from Jan. 1st next. The supreme judge chosen is to fill the unexpired term (to Dec. 31, '96) of Edward M. Paxon, who resigned from the supreme court bench Feb. 21, 1893, to accept the receivership of the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad company. To fill the vacancy until Judge Paxson's successor could be chosen by the people, Governor Pattison appointed Samuel Gustine Thompson of this city, who is now the candidate of the Democratic party for the office.

THE OHIO CAMPAIGN.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 6.—The campaign in Ohio closes to-night with Governor McKinley at Cleveland. Mr. Neal delivered his last speech at Athens Saturday night and is now at his home, Chillicothe, which is about 250 Republican, but which he hopes to carry.

The Republicans say nothing, but claim plurality for McKinley of from 25,000 to 30,000, while the Democrats are equally confident of the election of their ticket, but do not place any figures opposite their predictions.

IN KANSAS.

TOPEKA, Nov. 7.—The campaign for county offices in Kansas, which closed to-night, was fought with more bitterness and earnestness than any in the history of the State. Both Populists and Republicans claim a plurality of the total vote to be polled to-morrow, but neither will give figures. The German league, a strong Democratic organization, has sent instructions to vote straight, because the Democratic party was the only one asking the suffrage of the people that is opposed to prohibition. While the apparent issue in to-morrow's elections is simply the possession of local offices, behind it all the great fight is for a show of hands in the grand total of votes in the State. The Republican and Populist parties are fighting for position preparatory to the State campaign next year.

NEBRASKA.

LINCOLN, Nov. 6.—Voters of Nebraska will to-morrow cast their ballots for an associate justice for the Supreme Court and three regents of the university. There are four tickets in the field, but it is generally conceded that the fight lies between the Republicans and the Populists, with the chances probably favoring the former.

Colorado Weather.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—For Tuesday—Fair, except light local showers in northern portions; winds shifting to north and cooler.

Relief for the Sea Islands.

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—The relief train laden with clothing and provisions for the sea island sufferers and fever stricken Brunswick left the freight yards of the Pennsylvania road in Jersey City at a quarter past nine o'clock to-night. It was made up of half a dozen cars attached to the southern fast freight train. The train will reach Charleston, S. C., in two days and a half. At Baltimore 300 barrels of hominy will be taken on board.

DEMOCRATS YIELD.

A Republican Selected as Temporary Successor to Carter Harrison.

CHICAGO, Nov. 6.—The fight in the city council over the election of a mayor pro tem ended to-night in a perfect love feast in which both Democrats and Republicans participated. The late opponents fell all over each other in their effort to see which side could make the most concessions to the other. The Democrats receded from their position entirely and George B. Swift, the Republican nominee, was elected mayor pro tem. The motion of a Democrat to make the choice of Swift unanimous was declared out of order, but the vote was not far from unanimous. It stood—Swift, 62, Mc[illegible] 4, Blank 1.

A DESPERATE SCHEME.

Admiral Mello's Plan to Sink a Brazilian Supply Ship.

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—It was learned late this afternoon that agents of Admiral Mello have been bargaining with the Moran Towing company of 22 South street, with a view of securing a couple of stout ocean tugs, to be used, it is believed, to ram the steamer El Cid when the latter has passed a safe distance out from Sandy Hook. The agents of Mello have been looking at the R. C. Vail, a powerful tug of 192 tons gross, and capable of making fifteen knots. She is a wooden vessel, having been built in 1881. She is now taking a tow from Philadelphia to Boston, where she is expected to arrive to-night, thence returning to New York at once.

The other boat in which the agents of the insurgent admiral are interested is the P. H. Wise, a steel vessel built last year in Philadelphia and similar in tonnage and most other respects to the Vail, but not quite so strong. The Wise is now doing tow work in New York harbor.

The names of Mello's agents are not revealed. They are apparently recently arrived from South America. It is said that the proposed plan of action is to ram the El Cid and having sunk her, proceed to Brazil and there dispose of the tugs, the crews scattering and escaping the penalties which their crime would render them liable to.

BAYARD GIVES WARNING.

The Democratic Tariff Will not be Passed for England's Benefit.

BOSTON, Nov. 6.—Thomas F. Bayard, United States ambassador, was entertained in Liverpool this evening at a banquet and reception. More than 600 citizens, representing the wealth and society of the municipality, were present. Answering a toast to his health, Mr. Bayard said first, that, although a strong party man at home, he came before Englishmen as a man representing no party.

"There is a very large question which is a part of the international law recognized by all people," he continued, "the question of national comity, which in fact is little more than international courtesy. Comity between nations is an approach to the golden rule of doing to others as you would have others do to you. I came to England with no feeling stronger than that every advantage should accrue to England that would not be injurious to the United States.

"It seems to me that under the rule of comity contracts made anywhere in friendly and civilized countries must be suffered to have full force and respect in the judicial courts of other friendly countries, unless—unless, I say, they come in conflict with some positive inhibition. Perceive what a chain is thus formed among human interests by comity.

"Reference has been made here to night to coming legislation at Washington. I have noticed that on this side of the water a mistaken opinion is held as to what this legislation is likely to be. Permit me, as an American, to say that whatever legislation upon the tariff may be perfected, it will not be projected in the interests of England or France or Germany or any other nation. If the legislation incidentally benefits other people, Americans will be perfectly contented, but our first sentiment in this matter is patriotism, national patriotism, yes, selfish patriotism, if you please."

Loud cheers and laughter greeted the peroration.

A New Adjutant General.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—General Geo. D. Ruggles was to-day appointed adjutant general to succeed General Williams, retired.

General Ruggles has participated in ten or twelve of the most important battles of the war and was breveted brigadier general for gallant services during the closing campaign around Richmond leading to the surrender of Lee and army at Appomatox.

TELEGRAPH BREVITIES.

Paid admissions at the Chicago Fair were 3,762.

Correspondents in Madrid complain of the utter inefficiency of Spanish telegraphic service.

Chauncey Giles, the leader of the New Jerusalem Society, died at his residence in West Philadelphia.

Dr. Richard C. Dean, medical director of the United States Navy is visiting the Italian ports and studying their sanitary condition.

M. Ferdinand De Lesseps and family arrived from La Chenaye, his country home, where he had been in retirement for a long time.

At Danvers, Ills., fire destroyed Wilbit's shoe store, John Mohr's grocery, and other property. Loss about $25,000; insurance $7,000.

Judge John H. Orvis, one of the best known criminal and land lawyers in Pennsylvania, died suddenly in his home at Bellefonte.

The woolen and cotton mills of the Winthrop Mills company at Winthrop, Me., resumed operations after a suspension of over two months.

Lewis Thompson, the cashier of the Madison Square (N. Y.) bank, has turned State's evidence in order to clear himself of the criminal charges against him.

A dispatch from the Vienna correspondent of the Central News says that Dr. Wokerl, the Hungarian premier, has offered his resignation but the emperor refused to accept it.

Dr. Stephen C. Martin, a prominent and widely known physician, died at his home in Brookline, Mass., of kidney disease. Doctor Martin was 43 years of age and was the inventor of the famous vaccine virus.

The annual report of Commissioner Seymour of the patent office shows that during the last fiscal year the number of patents granted, including to issues and designs, was 23,411, trade marks issued, 1,881. The number of patents which expired during the year was 13,812.

CITY COUNCIL.

Regular Meeting of Colorado Springs City Fathers.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE PAID.

The Old Dispute Revived—Aldermen Finegan and Huffman Protest in Vain Against the Payment of That $1400.

At the Council meeting last night all members of the board were present excepting Lloyd and Gillingham, the Mayor and members who went to the Fire Swing all returned.

J. H. Schott petitioned that Pike's Peak avenue be opened east of the Santa Fe track. Referred to the street committee to report and inquire what was meant by the petition.

Alderman Dunbar introduced a resolution calling for the issue of about three thousand dollars' worth more of the warrants to complete the construction of the dam and pipe line at Beaver creek. The warrants are to bear the usual interest and expire at the same time as the warrants issued early in the fall.

The Mayor explained that the work was costing more than at first anticipated. The pipe line is all done but refilling in of earth and the reservoir is nearly completed to the point as to be decided upon. He thought the work could not be needed but it was best to have it ready to pay off with if it comes suddenly puts a stop to the work.

The resolution was adopted, all voting aye.

Alderman Robinson reported that the bill of The Gazette Printing company for the city printing the coming year is the lowest. Upon motion the contract was let to that company.

The police magistrate's report for October was read and accepted, and the bills were read and allowed.

Alderman Taylor recommended that two men be employed to watch the waterworks at Lake Moraine this winter. The matter was put in the hands of the Mayor and Superintendent Frost.

Alderman Robinson then brought up an old matter of dispute by moving that a warrant of $1400 be drawn in favor of the Chamber of Commerce as agreed upon last spring.

Alderman Bumstead seconded the motion and spoke in its favor. He has taken legal advice in the matter and is convinced that it is all right. He has always been convinced that this is the right way for the city to reach out.

Alderman Taylor also advocated the measure, as he held that it was simply fulfilling a contract made last spring.

Aldermen Huffman and Finegan opposed the resolution on the grounds that there are too many other places where money is needed now. They claimed that snap judgment was being taken in that two aldermen who opposed the claim, when presented at other times were absent. Alderman Robinson disclaimed that such was the intention.

A motion by Alderman Finegan to postpone action until another meeting was lost by a vote of 3 to 5. The resolution was then adopted by the same vote, Aldermen Huffman, Finegan and Leech voting no. Alderman Finegan threatened to apply for an injunction to restrain the clerk from issuing the warrant.

The council then adjourned.

HAPPILY TERMINATED.

New Directors for the Calumet—Work will be Resumed Immediately.

The meeting of the stockholders of the Calumet company yesterday terminated to the satisfaction of all concerned, and it is now generally hoped that the troubles are at an end and that it will take its proper position among the prosperous companies of the camp. The meeting at Manitou yesterday was largely attended, over 850,000 shares of the capital stock being represented. The meeting started in pretty lively but soon got down to business. The resignations of W. B. Brooks and Mr. Saurland as directors were read. The resignation of M. A. Leddy was announced. The directors are to meet one Friday to fill these vacancies and a resolution was adopted by the directors to elect Messrs. B. F. Crowell, J. A. Doubleday and F. E. Robinson to fill the vacancies. This will then leave the board composed of the above named new directors, with J. K. Miller and J. S. Hall. This board will prove satisfactory to all concerned.

Another important action taken at the meeting was the adoption of a resolution instructing the directors to secure $1000 with which to pay off the small floating indebtedness and to resume work. This money is already secured and it is announced that work will be resumed on the Burns lode not later than next Monday.

MINING AND STOCK NOTES.

William Sandell received the contract for driving the 400 feet of tunnel on the Anaconda.

The Princess company has a claim adjoining the Catherine in which the big strike was made last week.

The Alamo directors have decided to charge 10 cents for transferring each stock certificate on the books hereafter.

A force of men will start to work today on the Copper King lode at Turkey creek. The claim will be worked steadily all winter.

Anaconda is advancing and is held at 10c. Alamo is selling freely at ¾ of a cent. The work that is being done on the Anaconda is helping Alamo.

Work was somewhat traded in yesterday and closed at 3½ bid and 4 cents asked. Calumet sales were numerous, but investors were timid as the outcome of the stockholders' meeting was considered doubtful. Had the result of the meeting been known before the close of the market the trading would no doubt have been active.

The mining stock market is steadily improving. The good reports from Cripple Creek continue and with them the stocks advance. The advance in the price of silver bullion and the announcement of the settlement of all troubles with the miners at Aspen has had its effect on Mollie Gibson, which is about the only silver stock traded in just now, and it is climbing up fast. Last night it closed at $2.10 and is held strong.

Telephones to Camp.

Secretary Buckman of the Chamber of Commerce has been in active communication with the officers of the Colorado Telephone company for some time in the hopes of inducing them to put in an exchange at Cripple Creek with a line to this city. The company has had the matter in mind since last July. Last week he had a letter from Manager Field stating that Mr. Vaille, the contracting agent, was at camp looking over the situation. The company required that fifty boxes (500) be subscribed for at camp. It is learned that the Cripple Creek people have been quite liberal in subscribing. The City Council at that place met last evening and an ordinance was prepared asking for the usual franchise. Whether it was presented and what the result was, could not be learned last night.

The company is ready to put in its line from the camp to this city right away but prefers to wait until next spring before putting in the exchange, on account of the difficulty of setting poles and stringing wires in the winter time. The great advantage of a line to this city and thereby to Denver and Pueblo, cannot be too lightly estimated, and, if it succeeds, will be but another evidence of the good work that our Chamber of Commerce is doing by quietly working ahead in various lines.

AIM HERE TO VOTE.

Citizens of Colorado Springs turn out and vote to-day! Vote early and vote for the old order of things, economy and honesty. The voting precincts remain unchanged as to lines, and the voting places in the city are as follows:

THE SPANISH EXPLOSION.

Awful Devastation Wrought by Dynamite at Santander.

MADRID, Nov. 6.—Fernandez Sanz, captain of the steamship Cabo Machiaco, which was blown up at Santander on Friday, arrived at San Sebastian today. He says that the explosion rent the steamer's engines fifty yards into the air. Sixty-five houses were wrecked from roof to cellar by the shock. The divers have been here since yesterday noon examining the harbor near the quay where the explosion occurred. They have found piles of mangled bodies among the ruins of the sunken vessel. In one pile the remnants of fifteen bodies were found, and the severed limbs and trunks of twenty-five more. The work of collecting the bodies proceeds slowly, Captain Sanz says, because the bodies under the water can be extricated only with the greatest difficulty from the wreckage in which they have been wedged and half-buried.

The military are clearing away the ruins on land. The suffering among the people of Santander is extreme. The shops did not begin opening until this afternoon. The bakers have made no bread and the markets are empty. The Minister of Finance is superintending the work of relief.

New York Stock Market.

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—Money on call has been easy, ranging from 1½ to 2; last loan at 2, and closing offered at 2. Prime mercantile paper 5@6 per cent.

There was a rush to sell the industrials at the opening on Chicago advices quoting Speaker Crisp as saying that the first business of Congress will be to take hold of the tariff. The bears who just now are in the ascendent, made a drive at Sugar, Distillers and Chicago Gas on the theory that whatever may be the outcome of the legislation, the industrials were bound to suffer. Whether their premises are correct or not remains to be seen, but the street generally fell in with the bearish idea and for a time the market was heavy and depressed.

The market closed tolerably firm. Net losses of the day were ⅛@1⅛ per cent. Total sales were 217,583 shares.

Railway and miscellaneous bonds were weak. The sales were 1,030,000.

Colorado Midland fours fell 1 to 40½.

Exchange on London, 4.81½@4.81¾. Sight drafts, 4.84½. Bar silver, 69⅞.

Will Fight in Florida.

JACKSONVILLE, Nov. 6.—It is an assured fact that the great glove contest between Mitchell and Corbett will take place in this city. The money has been deposited, and the principals have agreed to the terms, and nothing more is necessary. Arrangements were completed to-day and when this fact had been made public, expressions of popular approval were heard on the streets. Richard K. Fox wired the Athletic club here to-day that the principals had agreed to the proposition to have the contest here.

A Miner Killed.

CRIPPLE, Colo., Nov. 6.—Last night Fred Ames, a miner in the New York Chance mine, was instantly killed and several men were seriously injured while ascending the incline for supper. At 10 o'clock a dozen men climbed into the skip, some hanging to the bail, and some to the rope, and in the ascent the skip struck a snag in the board incline flooring and jumped the track. The occupants were jammed against the timbering of the shaft before the engineer above could stop the hoist.

An Edict Against Gambling.

BERLIN, Nov. 6.—Emperor William today issued the expected edict against gambling in the army. By it he forbids games of hazard of any kind among men in active service and directs the officers to report and punish severely all offenders of the order. The edict is worded so strongly that everybody now believes all the officers implicated in the Hanover gambling scandal will be dismissed from the army.

Coinage of Silver Dollars.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—The issue of standard silver dollars from the mints and treasury offices for the week ended Nov. 1 was 3,088,525; for the corresponding period of 1892, $755,930.

The shipment of fractional silver coin for the month of October last was $1,163,399; for the corresponding period of 1892, $1,692,920.

Picking is Good Enough.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—A sweeping denial is made at the Navy Department of the report that Admiral Walker will succeed Admiral Stanton in command of the squadron at Rio Janeiro. Captain Picking of the Charleston, who is now in command of the squadron, has the full confidence of the administration and it is doubtful if he will be superseded.

TO-DAY'S ELECTIONS.

This is an off year, politically, and in most of the States of the Union the elections are confined to the choice of County officers. In a few a more or less complete State ticket is before the voters, and the influence of national affairs will in many cases be very strongly felt in the local elections.

In Colorado, voters will select officers for the various county offices, and at the same time will decide whether women are to be admitted to full rights of suffrage. Of course national affairs do not enter into the campaign. The State is practically unanimous for free coinage. But the result to-day will do something towards making the Colorado silver cause respectable or otherwise; it will indicate whether it is the policy of Senators Teller and Wolcott or that of Governor Waite which meets the approval of the voters of this State.

Ohio is one of the States which will choose State officers. The Republicans have for the most part renominated the present incumbents, including Governor McKinley. The campaign has naturally enough been conducted on national issues, with protection in the foreground. The Democratic nominee, Lawrence T. Neal, was the author of the tariff plank in the last Democratic national platform. Republicans claim the State by 25,000 to 60,000, while the Democrats practically admit McKinley's election, though by a majority very much less than the Republican estimates.

In Iowa the situation is very much mixed. The Republicans are divided on the prohibition question; the Populists will undoubtedly poll a very large vote, and the personal popularity of Governor Boies, who is the Democratic candidate for re-election, is very great. The Prohibitionists have a separate ticket. A full assembly ticket is also in the field, and is considered of great importance, as at its next session it will choose a successor to Senator Wilson, whose term expires in 1895.

In Nebraska, as in Colorado, the race is between the Republicans and the Populists, the Democrats being in retirement. The State ticket includes one judge of the Supreme Court and three regents of the State university. The political interest seems almost wholly confined to the city of Omaha, and outside of that place the campaign has been the quietest for many years.

In Kansas the candidates are confined to County officers and District judges. After the defeat of the Republicans in 1892 it was predicted that they were beaten for all time, but they have come again smiling to the front, and as Democratic co-operation with the Populists is limited to thirteen counties, are likely to recover some of their lost ground.

Of the eastern States New York seems to excite the most interest. Judge Maynard, who was rendered infamous in 1891 by the theft of certain election returns from the office of the Secretary of State, is a candidate for re-election. Republicans are hopeful of success, but the Tammany machine is a hard thing to contend against. The more conservative of both parties are inclined to admit Judge Maynard's success.

Kentucky votes for the first time with a secret ballot under its new constitution. Democratic success is conceded, and the chief issue of the campaign is the United States Senatorship, for which Senator Lindsay and Congressman McCreary are the principal candidates.

The chief center of interest for Populists all over the nation will be Virginia, where an attempt is being made to break the "Solid South," and not altogether without some hope of success. The best judgment, however, points to Democratic success. In Virginia also the Prohibitionists have a ticket with their usual prospects.

No man can truly say to-day that it makes no difference which ticket is elected. The election of the Populist ticket means the turning over of El Paso county to the same sort of a gang that now fills the State offices. It means running the county government for the sake of a horde of hungry heelers. It means higher taxes. To prevent such evils, your vote is needed. Put your cross under the eagle.

In New Jersey to-day the great issue is the race tracks. The last Democratic legislature sold out the State into the hands of a gang of professional gamblers. It will take a tremendous moral uprising to elect a Republican legislature, because of the outrageous gerrymander perpetrated by the Democrats; but it is barely possible that the State may be redeemed.

There are five tickets on the ballot to-day, but the choice lies between two: the Republican and the Populist. If you don't want to see the county offices turned over to a crowd of inexperienced and incapable spoils-hunters, put your cross under the eagle.

Make no mistake about your vote for Superintendent of Schools. Clarence O. Finch is well qualified for the place. We know him well and can vouch for his ability and integrity. Put your cross under the eagle and vote the straight ticket.

When you vote to-day, two crosses only are necessary—one at the top of the ballot, under the eagle, and one at the bottom, opposite "Equal Suffrage not approved." Or approved, if you want the women to go into politics.

In New York the machine Democracy, led by Croker, are trying to vindicate Thief Maynard. There is a good sized revolt against him, but New York Democrats are likely to vote the straight ticket.

Silver men should not forget that although the Bourbon Southern Senators voted against repeal, it was really they who made repeal possible by giving up the fight and allowing a vote to be taken.

All true friends of womankind should put a cross on the ballot today opposite "Equal Suffrage Not Approved." The women don't want the ballot; why thrust it upon them?

To-day will tell whether the county affairs are to be well administered for two years to come, or whether they are to be turned over to a horde of hungry Populists.

It is every man's duty to vote to-day. Let no side issue keep you away from the polls. Vote early, and put your mark under the eagle.

The list of polling places printed elsewhere in this paper will show you where to go to deposit your ballot this morning.

The vote of every man who wants decent government in this county is needed to-day for the Republican ticket.

To-day McKinley will be re-elected Governor of Ohio. The only thing to be in doubt is the majority.

You will find out all about the election, according to the very latest returns by wire in The Gazette.

If all the women should vote to-day, there would be a big majority for "Equal Suffrage Not Approved."

The election in Iowa is likely to be close.

The Farmers' Loss.

It is important above all things to understand what an enormous loss of wealth has been suffered by the country in consequence of the demonetization of silver, and the consequent appreciation of gold. Few people have any idea of the extent of the actual robbery deliberately committed. The accepted estimate is that the silver miners themselves submitted to a loss of $60,000,000 a year, but how is it with the cotton-grower and the wheat-raiser? Let us see.

When silver was demonetized in 1873 cotton brought 16.7 cents per pound, in 1892 it brought 9.0 cents per pound, showing a clear loss of $227,000,000 on the yield of the year which was 3,700,000,000 pounds. Averaging the output for the whole seventeen years, and the price of the whole period, there is an average annual loss of $53,000,000 on the cotton product, for the whole period. Subject to the same causes the wheat growers of America lost $100,000,000 a year for the period in question. During these seventeen years, the two great agricultural interests of the United States were mulcted in a sum of over $3,000,000,000 as a result of the demonetization of silver. In comparison with this how insignificant is the loss to the silver producers which for the same period amounts to only $120,257,000! Yet the claim is kept up that the restoration of silver to its place beside gold is demanded chiefly or wholly by the mine-owners and the "silver States," and therefore, for purely selfish reasons.—(George C. Hill, in American Journal of Politics, New York.

Our Enormous Resources.

Colorado should be advertised thoroughly and systematically during the coming winter. A strong effort should be made to convince the people of the East and Europe that the energies of this State are not paralyzed, that its resources are enormous, and that it is not dependent exclusively upon silver mining for its prosperity. Colorado's gold resources are very great, and to a considerable extent they are undeveloped. The coal, iron, oil, stone, agricultural and other resources of the State give it an assurance of continued and enduring prosperity, and show that it is capable of supporting a population more than ten times as great as that which it now contains.—(Denver Republican.

Some Philosophy.

Pliny ascribes the invention of soaps to the Gauls, and gives credit for the manufacture of both hard and soft soaps to the Germans, from whom the Romans learned the art. A complete soap-factory and well-preserved soap have been found in the ruins of Pompeii. Such factories existed in Italy and Spain in the eighth century, and in France in the ninth, but no mention of them in Great Britain appears until the fourteenth century. Soaps are compounds of fats with alkalies, soda giving hard soaps and potash soft soaps. White soap is generally prepared from tallow, with a little lard and palm oil, and yellow soap owes its color to the addition of resin. Cocoanut oil soap, often called marine soap, can be used with sea water. Carbolic acid soap has antiseptic properties, and other soaps are medicated with various substances. In some toilet soaps, like old Crown Windsor, the strong properties of the soda are neutralized by the air after long keeping and several meltings, but many modern toilet soaps are not given time to age. Pears' soap is made by treating shavings of ordinary good soap with alcohol. The alcohol is distilled off, leaving the transparent soap, from which the free soda has been removed by the treatment.

The use of chewing gum has been found to relieve dryness of the mouth and otherwise benefit fever patients.

WOMEN ON THE STAGE.

Mrs. D. P. Bowers Discusses Acting as a Profession.

(Copyrighted.)

New York, Nov. 2.—What go the actresses do and how do they do it? [illegible] fallacies [illegible] regarding the life of the average actress. Many of my friends, [illegible] mind, but that it is not [illegible] the stage from [illegible] Charlotte Cushman, who was [illegible] ugly. However, there are [illegible] such as exist [illegible] a painful lack of it, [illegible] too short, which are [illegible] in the game, because [illegible] payment [illegible], but even under such good [illegible] weapon. It will not [illegible] of the audience [illegible] without [illegible] upon the stage [illegible] only by [illegible] and application [illegible] times to [illegible] Of all women's [illegible] and charms they [illegible] most essential [illegible] and natural voice.

How to [illegible] is a question which [illegible] considerable number of [illegible] would [illegible] work, but in the end [illegible] the [illegible] will be there with all the weapons [illegible] will be [illegible] avoid. [illegible] for the stage. I was [illegible] of the [illegible] of my life. The [illegible] trading [illegible] and [illegible] it the best which any [illegible] to give [illegible].

I [illegible] company was an excellent training school [illegible] of it and never failed to [illegible] every opportunity to work [illegible] up to a [illegible] number. Although I finally believe [illegible] and not made [illegible] are [illegible] many [illegible] now. [illegible] I am [illegible] surprised when [illegible] know [illegible] of getting [illegible] stars and [illegible] will in a [illegible]

Mrs. D. P. Bowers.

[illegible] fitted for the stage. The most [illegible] woman in private life [illegible] backward before the footlights.

Would I advise a good woman to go upon the stage? [illegible] which I can best answer by saying that when my only daughter showed an inclination to do so I did everything I could to discourage her. Nothing can compensate a girl for the loss of home and all that it implies, notwithstanding the pleasures which success brings. In the present day of traveling companies it is impossible for [illegible] and [illegible] time. The struggle at the [illegible] time, owing to the number in the profession, is great, [illegible] always plenty of room at the top, the crowding around the bottom makes it next to impossible for a girl or young man not possessing extraordinary talents to succeed. Besides the life is full of discomforts. I have known many cases in my own company of girls sitting up entire nights on long journeys because they were unable to afford the comfort of a sleeper. But the reason which the average nonprofessional person gives for advising a girl to keep off the stage—that a woman cannot remain a good woman—is one with which I do not entirely [illegible].

Of course the girl who is constantly shielded and sheltered from the world has not the same temptations that fall in the life of an actress, but the temptations in a life on the stage are no greater than are likely to beset a girl in any walk of life where she is called upon to earn her own living. The temptations which come to an actress usually come from the outside world and not from [illegible] life [illegible]. Life on the stage means hard work, and ordinarily there is little time for anything else. The fact that many actresses resort to dress as the speediest means of concealing [illegible] marriage has probably prejudiced public opinion against them, and yet there is an explanation to this which does not necessarily affect a woman's reputation. Actresses are taught the full meaning of being pecuniarly independent, and when difficulties arise they are not deterred as are many women in private life, who would do likewise were it not for the distracting problem of how to earn a living.

[illegible] I know [illegible] enough to [illegible] as much as I do women dressing in men's clothes on the stage. And this reminds me that the report that I made my debut as Jacques in a production of Rosalind is a mistake. I did not give up Orsino's line and Rosalind in my youth to wear trousers in my old age. In those days it was considered indecent, and yet an exceptional woman proved just the opposite and did it. While I have no objection to dressing it done to-day and think that actresses should make all such changes they may have occasion to for art, I feel well satisfied that I never put on men's attire.

The Gazette has a larger circulation in Colorado Springs than all other daily newspapers combined.

The banks will be closed to day.

Mr. Richard Nowell has returned from an extended visit in the east.

The barbershops, postoffice and all public buildings will be closed to-day.

Rev. J. W. Fitch and wife are expected to arrive at home to-day from an extended visit in Wisconsin.

Marshal and Mrs. L. C. Dana returned from the East yesterday. Mrs. Dana spent two months at the Fair.

Messrs. Goudy & Kinsley have removed their offices to rooms 6 and 7, second floor of the El Paso block.

Police Magistrate Owen fined a man $10 for drunkenness yesterday and $15 for carrying a concealed weapon.

Mr. and Mrs. John E. Hundley and son left yesterday for California, where Mrs. Hundley will spend the winter.

The ladies of Grace Church guild give a tea at the residence of Mrs. T. G. Horn this afternoon from 3 to 5 o'clock.

The engagement of the "Braving the World" company at the Opera House this evening has been cancelled.

W. S. Priest will preach this evening at 7:30 at 721 South Tejon street. People living in that vicinity are cordially invited to be present.

Mr. H. S. Cable, manager of the Pike's Peak Cog road, left Sunday evening for a visit in the east and will be absent a large part of the winter.

Citizens who have money to loan will see by the council proceedings that the city will have about $2,000 worth of casualty warrants to sell in the next few days.

Mr. Will Gallagher, who has been engaged all summer in running one of the big coaches from the Auditorium hotel to the World's Fair, returned home yesterday.

A game of football will be played this afternoon, at the Athletic park, between the High school and the Matt France Hose team clubs. There will be no charge for admission.

Now is a good time to prepare for Christmas. On Nov. 16 at the First Congregational Church may be found useful and fancy aprons in great variety, dainty needlework and choice confections.

Mr. Will Mansfield, while out hunting yesterday afternoon east of town, killed a golden eagle that measured eighty inches from tip to tip. They are not frequently killed in this section of the country.

Mr. S. W. Vidler's gray hound Buenarita arrived at home yesterday. She returns the winner of the first prizes at the coursing meets at both Leoti and Winfield, Kan., and has become quite a celebrity thereby.

The new bridge across Shook's Run at Cache La Poudre street has been completed in good shape under the direction of Charles Edwards, superintendent of streets. The residents of that locality are much pleased with the improvement.

From dispatches to eastern papers it appears that the death of W. J. Willcox was caused by the horse he was riding becoming frightened. It dashed into the iron fence of the Capitol square, Richmond, and was instantly killed. In falling the entire weight came on the unfortunate rider.

Of the distinguished pianist who is to appear at the High School Auditorium one week from to-night, The Pittsburg Times says: "When Mr. Salmon sat down again at the instrument to perform the Wagner-Liszt 'Spinning Song' the rendition was truly marvelous. He kept the audience spell-bound with admiration throughout his playing, and the same was true of his rendition of Chopin's Andante Spianato and Polonnise."

Troop A, Colorado National Guards, elected the following non-commissioned officers last night: Second lieutenant, Link Bainter; first sergeant, C. R. Berry; second sergeant, B. C. Joy; third sergeant, William Bancroft; fourth sergeant, William James; fifth sergeant, T. C. Lynn; first corporal, F. E. Johnson; second corporal, C. S. Rogers; third corporal, Joel Atkinson; fourth corporal, Al Bainter. The company decided to hold its annual ball on Thanksgiving night as has been its custom for many years.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES.

A very large audience listened attentively to a very helpful address from Rev. A. C. Richards on Sunday afternoon at the Y. M. C. A. The Euphonia club sang two selections very acceptably.

Regular class drills in the "Gym" tonight. All members who have been in the class are asked to be on hand promptly to-night at 7:45, as matters of importance are to come before them.

A half-hour prayer service is held every day now at the rooms of the Y. M. C. A. from 12 to 12:30. It will begin on time and close on time. All men are invited to drop in on their way to or from lunch, even though they can stay but five minutes or so.

Chrysanthemums.

Call on Wm. Clark, the florist, and see the handsome display of Chrysanthemums before they are sent to the exhibit at Denver.

KEELEY NOTES.

The Institute Boys Adopt Resolutions Friendly to Mr. Kieffer.

There was quite a large gathering at the Keeley institute last night. The club held Kangaroo Court and at the close J. Barry Sullivan, a prominent attorney of Laramie, Wyoming, graduated. He made an interesting address.

Since the Keeley institute opened in this city two years ago 512 men have been treated and there is an average of about three women constantly under treatment.

Rev. A. R. Kieffer was present last evening and made a short speech to the members. Before adjourning the following resolutions were adopted:

Whereas, We learn, with regret that the Rev. A. R. Keiffer, pastor of Grace Episcopal Church, is about to leave Colorado Springs to make his home in the city of Pittsburg, Pa.; therefore be it

Resolved, That in our intercourse with him we have always found him a Christian gentleman; one who always had the cause of suffering humanity at heart, and one who was always diligent in work for its amelioration.

That in his leaving, this club loses one of its warmest friends and the active labor of one of its honorary members whose place it will be hard to fill.

That we remember with gratitude his unselfish devotion to the Keeley cause, the kind words of cheer and sympathy which he often spoke to us, and the labors by which many unfortunates have been ransomed and redeemed and made partakers of the blessings which we now enjoy.

That we commend him to the love, fellowship and esteem of our brothers in his new home and to the Keeley boys wherever he may go.

That these resolutions be spread upon the records of this club; that a copy of the same be presented to him and that the same be furnished our city papers, also to the Banner of Gold and Golden News for publication.
